Favors an Army-Navy Merger

Gen. Marshall
In Plea for a
Unified Program
In Postwar Plans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(P)—Gen. George C. Marshall told senators today this country no longer can depend on "coffee cup" intelligence work but must have a world-wide espionage system.

The general of the armies urged maintenance of an over-all intelligence setup as an adjunct to the proposed merger of the army and navy into one military department.

"We should know as much as possible about the intent, as well as the military capabilities, of every country in the world," he testified before the senate military affairs committee.

Marshall said that before the war this country depended on information that could be obtained by military attaches "over the coffee cups at some dinner." He had a vague recollection, he said, with a smile, that congress discouraged any other kind of intelligence network.

At the same time, the five star general said, all of the rest of the world was finding out what the United States was doing. He insisted that henceforth, this country must put its intelligence on a "business basis."

"We must know the facts for our own defense," he declared.

Marshall, pleading for a unified postwar army-navy department, said the navy neither "consulted nor informed" the army when it made its post-war plans.

The chief of staff told the senate military committee it had been exceedingly difficult during the war to get agreement on conflicting ideas of army and navy leaders.

That's why, he said, a mere continuation of the wartime joint chiefs of staff isn't enough.

Remove Competing

Marshall declared the navy department recently sent congress its plans for a postwar navy and marine force, and added:

"The war department has neither been consulted nor informed."

The general declared that under separate commands the war and navy departments would compete with each other in peacetime for congressional appropriations.

The committee, studying the nation's postwar military problems, is expected to get a request from Mr. Truman that every able bodied young man be required to take a year of military training.

That was the belief today among legislators who have talked with Mr. Truman. They reported he will make the request in a message to congress Tuesday.

Marshall said this country must have a constant powerful armed force to impress the "political leaders and the professional soldiers of other nations, both friendly and unfriendly, that no act of aggression against the United States, however sudden, could succeed."

"The national security," he said, (Please turn to page 4, col. 6)

'Be Generous in Victory' Slogan

"Be Generous in Victory," is the slogan of the War Chest Drive and people of Sedalia and Pettis county are asked to remember that when they make their contributions.

Funds are badly needed this year to help the people of war torn countries recover from want and starvation.

The need this year is even greater and people are asked to give more liberally in a thanksgiving of victory in a war that did not demolish our homes and our country.

Straight And Narrow
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18.—(P)—Miss Emma Lou Hamilton took a cab to a local hospital where she was to assume her duties as a Red Cross gray lady. She paid her fare with what she thought was a $1 bill and hurried in.

Walking through the hall a few minutes later she was confronted by the taxi driver.

"Lady, you gave me a $5 bill and didn't get your change. I had to hunt quite a bit to find you."

He then gave her five one dollar bills.

Considering this too much of a good thing, Miss Hamilton pointed out to him that she really desired to pay something for the ride.

Talk on Service Men Returning

"The Returning Service Man," was the subject of a talk by Lt. Louis Siegel, Public Relations Officer, Sedalia Army Air Base, before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club at its meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon. He was introduced by Ben Robinson who presided as program chairman during absence of his brother Dan Robinson.

Lt. Siegel's verbal description of the returning service man was instructive for the group of business men who in coming months will begin to employ and reemploy veterans of World War II. He urged the employers to be patient with these men who have learned a great deal about human relationships during their war time service, men who have matured quickly in three or four years, men who are not mentally dull but who have learned to study the reasons why, to understand cause and effect.

The returning veteran, the speaker said, is going to return to civilian life, expecting employment, and with a desire to understand why reconversion processes are not moving forward, why after he has been taught to get along with his fellow men in the army to accomplish one objective—the war—why, in civilian life, men are not getting along together to win the peace; what are the obstacles and how to remove them.

Guests were: Sgts. Kelly Edgington and Bob Boothe with M. O. Weathers; Thurlow Puckett, with the Rev. B. H. Campbell.

Chas. H. Bard Passes Away At Home Here

Was Many Years
Sedalia Jeweler;
Funeral Saturday

Charles Harlan Bard, aged 76 years, for many years a Sedalia jeweler, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday night at the family home, 209 West Broadway. He had been ill during the entire summer and for the past month had been confined to his bed.

Mr. Bard was born November 23, 1869, in Sedalia, the son of W. E. and Sarah Talbot Bard. His father was a Sedalia druggist. When he grew to young manhood Mr. Bard learned the jewelry trade as a clerk at the Taylor jewelry store and later went to the Elgin watch factory where he learned watchmaking. He started in business for himself in 1893 and retired from business in 1938.

On September 16, 1896, he was married to Miss Anna Mertz of Sedalia with whom he had gone through school.

Mr. Bard belonged to the Masonic order, the Ararat Shrine and the First Christian church. He was greatly interested in the Shrine activities.

While engaged in business he was active in civic and other affairs.

Surviving are his wife of the family home, his mother Mrs. Anna Bard of San Francisco, Calif., one brother Lee Bard, Miami, Fla., three sisters Mrs. Maylie Browne, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Charles Van Antwerp, Talladega, Ala. and Mrs. Arthur Renter of San Francisco, Calif., and one aunt Mrs. Nannie Marsh of Tip-ton.

One brother Will Bard and a sister Mrs. Harry Hyatt preceded him in death.

Funeral Services Saturday
Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home with Rev. Robert C. Williamson, pastor of the Congregational-Presbyterian church and Rev. A. W. Kokenodfer, retired minister of the First Christian church, to officiate.

Miss Mabel DeWitt will have charge of the music.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin funeral chapel and will be returned to the family home Friday.

Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Fire Destroys MFA Mill at Columbia

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 18.—(P)—Fire caused by lightning in an unseasonable thunderstorm here early today completely destroyed the Missouri Farmers Association's four-story mill. There was some water damage to the Montgomery-Ward store adjacent to the mill.

The loss was estimated by co-operative officials at probably more than $100,000. It was covered by insurance.

Brother of Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short Dies

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—(P)—Dr. Ulysses S. Short, 67, ear, nose and throat specialist here for 40 years, died today. He was a brother of Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, commander of Pearl Harbor at the time of the Japanese attack.

Peron to New Peak of Power In Argentina

Upheaval Kept
Him for Nine
Days in Eclipse

By Laurence F. Stuntz
BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 18.—(P)—Col. Juan Domingo Peron rode the crest of a new wave of power in stormy Argentina today as another swift political upheaval collapsed the forces which kept him in eclipse for nine days.

The strong man of the military government forced the formation of a cabinet of his supporters and friends, and hailed a general strike called in his behalf as celebrating "a day of glory for the workers."

President Edelmiro Farrell tossed aside a "cabinet of notables" submitted by Juan Alvarez as attorney general, threw out Alvarez himself, reinstated several members of his deposed cabinet, ousted Adm. Hector Vernengo Lima, a leader of the Oct. 9 movement against Peron, as navy minister, and before a vast crowd hailed Peron as "a man who knows how to win your hearts."

The newspaper La Prensa said that shortly before midnight the gunboats Independencia and Rosario and the minesweeper Drummond of the Argentine navy left the capital's port. It printed an unconfirmed report that Vernengo Lima and other high navy chiefs were aboard the Drummond.

Mystery as to Avalos
Still a mystery was the status of Gen. Eduardo Avalos, who led the Campo de Mayo garrison movement which had forced Peron's resignation as vice president, war minister and labor minister. Avalos had taken the post of war minister and Farrell's announcement listed no successor thus far.

In response to the general strike called issued by Peron's friends in the General Confederation of Labor, all trains out of Buenos Aires stopped running at one.

Child Fatally Injured by Car

Virginia Gayle Beckett, 7-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Beckett, of Boonville, was fatally injured Wednesday morning on her way to school.

The Beckett family have many friends in Sedalia and have often visited here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Withers, 1819 East Broadway.

Chief Layton Miller of Boonville said that he understands that the driver of the car, Ernest Habaggar of California, Mo., was going north on Main street in Boonville and that the little girl broke loose from the school parlotman.

W. W. Hanna, and ran out into the street, colliding with the car. Habaggar said he was driving about 15 to 18 miles an hour.

Gayle was born August 14, 1938.

Surviving are her parents, one brother, Teddy and one sister, Barbara, her maternal grandmother, Mrs. C. C. Watson of Kansas City and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beckett of Salisbury.

Funeral services will be held in the Nelson Memorial Methodist church Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Boonville. Rev. F. R. Chapman will officiate.

Burial will be in Walnut Grove cemetery there.

Mrs. Withers and Mrs. William Starke, 1617 East Ninth street, will go to Boonville to attend the funeral.

No Action in Medical School Battle

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 18.—(P)—The senate education committee heard another round last night in the medical school battle which started last spring but took no action.

Proponents of a plan to establish a four-year medical course at the University of Missouri with the final two clinical years in Kansas City, had the floor last night. Later the committee will hear opposition to the bill already approved by the house.

Wage-Price Situation to Be Discussed

Speculation on Effect of Ending
Miners' Strike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(P)—President Truman said today he was very happy John L. Lewis called off the coal strikes and disclosed that he expects soon to make a statement on wage and price policies.

Mr. Truman noted at a news conference that Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers, ended the strikes as a matter of public interest. Then, he observed that there would be very little trouble if everybody acted in the same interest.

Tomorrow, the president said, he expects to discuss the wage-price situation with the cabinet. He may have an announcement afterwards on policy.

Mr. Truman mentioned the forthcoming statement in replying to a question as to whether he had suggested to war labor board members recently the creation of a new agency to formulate wage-price policies.

For Holding Prices Line

A series of speeches on wages and prices by reconversion director John W. Snyder, Mr. Truman said, set forth already proclaimed administration views. Snyder indicated the government favors holding the line on living costs while permitting some rise in wages.

Asked if he favored repeal of the Smith-Connally labor act, the president replied it was a matter for congress. However, he said, when it comes up in congress he will have an opinion to express on it.

While there was speculation over Lewis' motives in ending the (Please turn to Page 4, Column 7)

George Scruton Named Director Of Press Group

George H. Scruton, editor and business manager of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital was elected to the board of directors of the Inland Daily Press association Wednesday at its 61st annual convention, in Chicago, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

A War Production Board official told the association that there would be more newspaper available on January 1 than there is today, but "not enough to go around," and "a real shortage will still exist."

The speaker was L. J. Hale Steinman, director, printing and publishing division, WPB, and president of the Lancaster, Pa., newspapers.

"On Jan. 1, when the government's L-240 newsprint order is revoked," Steinman said, "the newsprint supply for the first six months of 1946 will have improved by 90,000 tons."

"But when the order is lifted and consumers are free to buy all the newsprint they can, the demand may increase 10 per cent over the base year. Then we will need 255,987 tons more in the six-month period than the supply on hand and will be short 42,666 tons a month."

Fred A. Seaton, publisher of the Hastings, Neb., Tribune, was elected president of the association. He succeeds Don Anderson, publisher of the Madison, Wis., State Journal.

Strike is on By Utility Men

Starts in Power Plants in Michigan Today

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—(P)—CIO-organized electrical power workers began a strike in Michigan today but by mid-morning service was continuing the affected area of 2,000,000 inhabitants and industrial centers.

Plants of the Consumers Power company were struck at 7 a. m. (CST) by the CIO's state utility workers council in a wage dispute, and 6,000 state troops were ordered to stand by along with Michigan's 400 state police.

Two hours after the start of the walkout the company reported that, except for brief interruptions, normal electrical power loads were being maintained throughout the area. The affected sections included virtually all of industrial southern Michigan save Detroit, which draws its power from other sources.

Gov. Harry F. Kelly ordered state police and troops on the alert. The strikers had ignored his plea to stay on the job in deference to "public needs."

Operators of boilers and turbines of the big plant near Saginaw, which feeds power into the rich Saginaw valley, failed to report at their stations at the regular hour.

The power plant, however, was (Please turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Conn Signs up To Fight Louis

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(P)—Billy Conn signed on the dotted line today for a return fight with heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis next summer. Louis signed the contract last Monday.

The Pittsburgh challenger agreed to the clause barring tune-up fights, which was a capitulation by his manager, Johnny Ray, who for 24 hours vigorously opposed promoter Mike Jacob's insistence on this point.

However, Billy will be permitted to make pre-championship fight ring appearances as a referee and in exhibition bouts.

Conn said he will go into light training immediately, with heavy training scheduled to start in March.

Appears as Court Takes Up 'Legally Dead' Case

ELIZABETH, N. Y., Oct. 18.—(P)—Philip J. Reiss of Plainfield, attended yesterday a court hearing on his application to have his wife declared legally dead.

He said she had disappeared in October, 1935.

Reiss' attorney asked for a dismissal of the petition when Mrs. Reiss walked into the courtroom and explained that she did not know her husband was looking for her until she read a newspaper notice of the application.

Fortunes In Gold and Diamonds

Found in Thermos Bottles Where Hidden by the Nipponese

TOKYO, Oct. 18.—(P)—Fabulous fortunes in gold and diamonds occupied the attention today of American forces in Japan where thousands of Nipponese face a dire winter of hunger.

More than $30,000,000 worth of dazzling diamonds—largely government owned and many obtained through deceit of the Japanese people—were discovered today in cheap, quart thermos bottles in a safety deposit box.

While investigators uncovered the rich find, millions of dollars worth of gold and silver bullion began moving in two and one-half ton U. S. army trucks under armed escort from the bomb-battered government mint to the Bank of Japan.

Allied officers found 103 tons of silver bars, which they valued at about $2,000,000, stacked carefully in a farmer's barn near Kasugai, 85 miles from Tokyo. The farmer, Kashiwa Haibara, said the silver was sent to him from Tokyo to save it from loss during American bombings.

Another $1,000,000 worth of silver was found a few days previously, cached in an underground room near a machine shop at Haratsuka, about 100 miles from Tokyo.

Toyohiko Kagawa, Japanese Christian leader, urged General MacArthur to divert part of the more than $250,000,000 in government valuables already seized to import food.

Defendants in Nazi War Crimes

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—(P)—The 24 defendants named in the war crimes indictments handed up here today are:

Hermann Wilhelm Goering, reichsmarshal, No. 2 Nazi and air force chief.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, foreign minister.

Rudolf Hess, No. 3 Nazi.

Robert Ley, Nazi labor front leader.

Wilhelm Keitel, field marshal and chief of the high command.

Alfred Jodl, colonel general and chief of the army staff.

Karl Doenitz, grand admiral and commander-in-chief of the German navy.

Erich Raeder, grand admiral and former commander of the navy.

Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach, industrialist.

Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, former economics minister and reichsbank president.

Walther Funk, former Nazi press chief and reichsbank president.

Franz von Papen the "grey fox" of Nazi diplomacy.

Ernst Kaltenbrunner, chief of the Nazi security police.

Alfred Rosenberg, chief prophet of the Nazi philosophy.

Hans Frank, governor general in the Polish occupation.

Martini Bormann, storm troop chief, Hitler's deputy.

Wilhelm Frick, Nazi "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia.

Fritz Sauckel, SS and SA general.

Albert Speer, Nazi munitions minister.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, gauleiter for the Netherlands.

Julius Streicher, number one Nazi Jew-baiter.

Hans Fritzsche, propagandist.

Constantin von Neurath, "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia.

Baldur von Schirach, Hitler youth chief.

Field Marshal Herman Goering And Other Leaders of Nazis Accused of Horrible Murders, Torture and Other Highly Reprehensible War Crimes

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—(P)—The most sweeping indictment in history, charging a criminal conspiracy to war against the world, was filed today against 24 of Hitler's Nazi hierarchy and leaders of his army staff.

The German general staff and the high command of German armed forces were among six German organizations which the presiding judge of the Austere opening session, Maj. Gen. I. T. Nikitchenko of Soviet Russia, said the prosecution would seek to convict next month when the accused war criminals go on trial in Nuremberg.

The indictment was filed by prosecutors of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France with judges of those nations. The defendants will have 30 days to prepare defenses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(P)—The Allied powers indicted 24 German leaders and six Nazi organizations today on charges of starting the world's greatest war and committing history's most horrible mass crimes of murder, torture, devastation and hate.

The leaders named are former key men in Adolf Hitler's government and top generals and admirals of the German high command.

Basically they are accused of a gigantic "plan or conspiracy," dating from 1921, to rule Germany and conquer other lands they wanted. Their strategy: treachery and terror first, finally a deliberate, aggressive war.

Organizations Accused
Organizations indicted are Hitler's old reich cabinet, the German general staff and high command, the leadership corps of the Nazi party, the SS organization (a police and military outfit), the Gestapo (dread secret police), and the SA (a police and military training organization.)

The previously announced intention of the prosecution is to prove these to be criminal organizations so that any person legally found to be a member would be convicted automatically as a criminal. Thus the prosecutors hope to shorten the trials of hundreds, perhaps thousands, of Germans yet to be indicted.

The indictment furnished the basis for projected trial of German Nazi and military leaders by the Anglo-American-French-Soviet military tribunal at Nuremberg, Germany. It was drawn up by prosecutors of the four Allied nations, including Justice Robert H. Jackson for the United States. It was released simultaneously in the Allied capitals and in Germany.

The 24 men named as defendants were the highest in Adolf Hitler's Nazi government to be taken alive. Among them are Hermann Goering, Rudolph Hess, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Robert Ley, all key Hitler officials, Generals Wilhelm Keitel and Alfred Jodl, Admirals Karl Doenitz and Erich Raeder; industrialist Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach; financier Hjalmar Schacht.

Recounts Outrages
The 25,000 word accusation was drawn for presentation to the four-power war crimes court at Berlin. It is an unprecedented document, it sums up in cold legal form Allied fury over Nazi outrages, and it forces the men accused of responsibility to answer for their acts.

The bulk of the indictment is a recital of horrors.

The Nazis and their high command associates are blamed officially for the brutal slaughter of about 10,000,000 helpless persons, civilians and prisoners of war.

About 4,000,000 were slain at Auschwitz concentration camp alone, the indictment says, and another 1,500,000 in notorious Maidanek.

Of 9,600,000 Jews who came under Nazi domination in and out of Germany, the document asserts, 5,700,000 disappeared, "most of them deliberately put to death by Nazi conspirators."

The Nazis and their associates are accused also:

Of torturing civilians to obtain information.

Of putting civilians under "protective arrest" in the "most unhealthy and inhumane conditions."

Of mass murders of defenseless people by gassing and shooting, of incredibly cruel "scientific" experiments on women.

Of drawing the blood of children.

Of shooting hostages, ill-treating and murdering war prisoners and

Of plundering or wiping out by wholesale destruction the cities and towns of lands they occupied.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 — The next two months of President Truman's life are filled with junkets similar to that which he has just taken through the heart of the Mark Twain country. At first newsmen covering the White House figured that he took these trips for political reasons, but they have now changed their minds.

The president takes these junkets because he loves them. Never since that fateful April day when he took the oath of office has he had more fun than at Caruthersville, Mo., where he swapped yarns with the local postmaster, got up at 6:15 to "spit" in the Mississippi river, and ran out in the street to ring the bell of a small-scale locomotive.

The locomotive was being conducted through the streets of Caruthersville by the "Forty and Eight" club of the American Legion (commemorating the "40 men — 8 horses" capacity of the French freight cars in the last war). Suddenly the president of the United States spied it. Perhaps it reminded him of 1918 when he unloaded artillery horses from those same French freight cars in the Meuse sector. Or perhaps he just felt very much at home in Caruthersville.

Anyway, with a shout to war mobilizer John Snyder, who once worked behind the cashier's cage of small-town Missouri-Arkansas banks, Harry went over to the locomotive. Right then and there the war mobilizer and the president of the United States had the time of their lives staging a locomotive bell-pulling contest.

Secret Service Frowns

Of course, the secret service men didn't like it, but regardless of them, Harry Truman certainly enjoyed being Harry Truman.

Another incident the secret service men didn't like was when the president arose shortly after 6 a. m., left the austere frame 42-room Majestic hotel which had been cleared of guests in his honor, and walked down to the Mississippi river. It seems that there is an old custom in those parts which makes it incumbent upon a visitor to spit in the Father of Waters.

The secret service men, not being in the know regarding this spitting custom, were taken by surprise. One of them, however, spotted the truant president of the United States ambling off in the direction of the river, sounded the alarm, and a few minutes later, four bodyguards were trailing him.

After Harry got through spitting he skinned a few stones out over the river, found that his technique as a stone skimmer had not changed since boyhood days and was then content to go back to town.

On the way, he met two old Caruthersville cronies, Nearl Helm county wholesale liquor dealer, and James Reeves, former commander of the American Legion. They swapped stories as they walked down to the post office, where they dropped in to see Postmaster Bailey S. Brooks. There they swapped some more.

Back in Washington, Secretary of State James Byrnes was just back from the most disastrous diplomatic conference in recent history with a lot of pressing problems to straighten out. In New York, Detroit and the coal mining areas, strikes were sending creeping paralysis up the industrial spine of the nation.

But the man who never really wanted to be president was enjoying himself back home.

"Harry has a strong cabinet," maintained one of his friends, "and he feels they are quite qualified to handle things without him."

Whether right or wrong, there is no question but that Harry Truman got a great kick out of forgetting he was president.

Note — Finally, after several phone calls from Washington, War Mobilizer Snyder took a special plane back to the humdrum life of strikes, inflation and reconversion.

Presidential Chaff

Cigar-chewing George Drescher, the secret service chief, came in for some criticism for letting the president take off from Washington airport in a misty rain when commercial planes were grounded; also for letting the Truman party drive along winding rainslick Virginia roads at 60 miles an hour. . . . Also at Paducah, Ky., the "Sacred Cow" came down on a landing strip with just a few inches to spare. . . . Some don't blame Drescher entirely, on the ground that he has become a close pal of Truman's and is overruled by him. . . . Truman demands that all those around him be chummy.

Ross chiefly gave the names of minor local personalities who chewed the fat with Truman. . . . At one time press relations got so low that a rumormongering newsman seriously proposed asking for Charlie Ross's resignation. . . . THE DOCTOR SAYS Deafness No Cause for Retirement

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Hearing is the most commonly impaired of all the senses in man. Partial loss of sight is of greater concern than partial loss of hearing, but hearing loss creates more economic waste. The hard of hearing are often retiring persons who try to conceal their handicap.

Dr. O'Brien

Hearing loss is of two types. In one, there is some interference with the passage of sound from the outside through the ear, to that part of the hearing apparatus which records sound. The other type occurs when there is loss of perception of what is heard. In conduction deafness, there may be an obstruction to the passage of sound waves through the ear canal. The drum may be thickened, scarred or retracted. It is surprising how much the drum can be changed without interference with hearing.

Infection Is One Cause

An important cause of hearing loss is infection of the middle ear with resulting destruction of the tiny bones. They may be bound together by adhesions or the space may be filled with secretions and granulations. Otitis media is an obscure variety of hearing loss, which is believed to result from fixation of one of the little bones called the stapes, to a little opening in the ear called the oval window.

In perception types of loss, the auditory nerve is often affected. This is the nerve which conveys sound impulses to the brain, where hearing really occurs. In addition to inflammation of the auditory nerve, trauma or injury is a cause of perception loss. In this type the inner ear is injured by fractures of the base of the skull, or by exposure to gun fire or by other loud noises.

In aging individuals there is perception loss for high-pitched tones. In addition, some patients with perception loss do not show a definite cause for the difficulty.

Noise Makes Deafness

That noise can cause hearing loss has been known for a long time. The best example is boiler-makers' deafness. The threshold for painful sound lies between 90 and 135 decibels. (One decibel is the least intensity of sound at which any given note can be heard.) Riveting hammers and chipping hammers cause between 110 and 135 decibels of sound, thus producing definite ear injury to their operators and to those about them.

Injury to the ears in modern warfare is a common experience. Most severe varieties are of the blast noise variety, in which the sound passes through air, or water.

In any hearing loss, the patient should admit it, seek competent medical advice, and allow it.

Never-Say-Die Spirit Led 30th

By NEA Service

"Go to hell! We wouldn't surrender even if our last round of ammo were fired and our last bayonet were broken off in a Nazi belly!"

This was the manner in which a group of 30th (Old Hickory) Division doughboys, cut off for five and a half days, replied to a German surrender offer.

This was the spirit with which the 30th fought from the time it first clashed with the Nazis. The 30th got to France a little later than some, but once it started moving, it made up for lost time. Joining the Allied assault on the Nazis in June, 1944, the division crossed the Vire River and headed for St. Lo. By August, the Old Hickory men had advanced to Mortain.

Here the division was suddenly hit by five German armored divisions, hoping to push through to the sea at Avranches and thus split the American First and Third Armies. It was in this battle—which saw the Germans fail—that the surrounded doughboys gave their classic answer to the Nazi surrender offer.

After this battle, the 30th crossed the Seine, and by September had begun an offensive that carried through to Tournai and Brussels and gave it the distinction of being one of the first American divisions to enter Belgium and Holland. After crossing the Albert Canal and the

ESME OF PARIS

I JOIN THE DIAGHILEV TROUPE

DIAGHILEV had said: "Ballet is a fusion of three perfect things, Decor, Music and Dance—and none of the three can triumph without the others."

I was not old enough to be able to formulate definite plans for what I wanted to do, except for the one thought—to study music, color, and design as a base for creative work. I began to think that such ballets as "Walpurgis Night," which were given with dancers strapped in harnesses and flown from arm booms over the stage, could be done in a marvelous way with aerialists trained as dancers, with the requisite ballet movements, and working in harmony with dancers on the ground in a spectacular ballet. So I started studying decorative art and the usual piano classes again, but now with a more definite purpose.

In the early spring of 1919, mother had a lot of trouble over a lawsuit involving records made in America some time before. It seems that mother had sung the same music (which had been specially arranged for her to make the recordings) for more than one company. She had never meant to do anything wrong but must have needed the money and I suppose she didn't realize the seriousness of what she was doing. Now she was fretting herself to death over it, and her throat was not in any too good a condition. So when a telegram came from Pavlova in London, saying that she was arriving for a short tournee to be held during the months of March and April in Belgium, I rejoined her company.

After a gala performance in Brussels for the Russian refugees in the Theatre de la Monnaie before the King and Queen of Belgium, capturing the fortress of Eben Emael, the 30th got ready to assault the Siegfried Line.

The attack began on October 2. By October 16 the 30th had made contact with the First Division and the two outfits encircled Aachen. The 30th abandoned its forward movement only when the Von Rundstedt counteroffensive made it necessary for the outfit to swing back and join in that fight.

It was not a nice thing to have done to Pavlova, for she had been

Miss Alice McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles U. McBride, RFD 1, Smithton, and Charles Melbourn White of Kansas City were married Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock at Smithton Methodist church with the Rev. E. F. Dillon officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Shelby Kahrs of Kansas City sang, "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Miss Laura Kruse, preceding the ceremony.

To the strains of Wagner's Wedding March from "Lohengrin," played on the organ by Miss Kruse, the bride entered with her father, preceded by her attendant, Mrs. Marvin Goodwin. Serving as best man was John D. Marsh of Kansas City, cousin of the bride.

Both the bride and her attendant were attired in beige with brown accessories and wore corsages of bronze chrysanthemums and bittersweet. The bride's mother wore rust brown with blue accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums and Mrs. Kahrs was attired in blue with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums and bittersweet.

Mr. and Mrs. White were entertained at a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. R. Bohon, in Sedalia, following which they left for south Missouri for a week's honeymoon. Mrs. White, a graduate of Smithton high school, was employed at the Smithton creamery before going to Kansas City where she took a short business college course.

Mr. White, a graduate of Westport high school, Kansas City, is now a cake salesman for the Grenan bakery.

The couple will reside in Kansas City.

Out-of-town relatives and friends who attended the nuptials were: Mr. and Mrs. John D. Marsh and son, Kansas City; Mrs. A. R. Bohon, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson and daughter, Mrs. Mary Saari and baby, Sedalia; and Misses Nadine Demmand, Juanita Taylor and Helen Edwards of Nevada.

Mrs. Jessie Garrigus honored the third birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mary Gayle, Tuesday afternoon with a party at her home, 316 East Saline avenue.

A pink birthday cake alight with three candles, which centered the table, was served the following young guests, some of whom were accompanied by their mothers: Gary Wayne Christian, Jimmy Weed, Harvey Lee Morton, Rita Kay Napier, Patty Sue Cornelius, "Snooker" Sullivan, Jeannie Weed, Mary Ann Wallace, "Dubby" Wallace, Harold Wayne Comer, Phyllis Kay Dye, Georgie and Anna Mae Hicks.

Prepare Tax Cut Of $2,085,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The senate finance committee voted today to cut individual income taxes $2,085,000,000 a year and remove an estimated 12,000,000 low-income persons from the tax rolls.

The senators also agreed to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations next January 1, accounting for another slash of $2,555,000,000 in revenue.

Thus, before acting on proposed excise tax reductions and other odds and ends, the committee in a two-hour session reduced the prospective federal income by a total of $4,640,000,000.

With further action due later in the day, the senate group had made several significant changes in the pattern of the tax cutting legislation approved by the house last week.

The house voted to reduce the effective rate of the excess profits tax from 85.5 per cent to 60 per cent next year but not to repeal it until 1947.

The senators voted to retain the 3 per cent "normal" tax on individual incomes, but to apply the same exemptions to the normal tax as govern the surtax—$500 for the taxpayer and each dependent in place of a flat $500 per taxpayer. This was the same as provided in the house bill.

But where the house voted to reduce the surtax rate in each of its graduated brackets by 4 per cent, the senators voted to reduce the surtax rate by 3 per cent.

The senators also knocked out a house stipulation that each taxpayer must get a net reduction of at least 10 per cent in his tax.

Peron to New Peak of Power in Argentina

But not all unions supported the strike. The Buenos Aires labor council, which includes representatives of all unions in the capital, said the strike was "imposed by Nazi elements in the labor ministry who, pistol in hand, are trying to paralyze the country to aid Col. Peron."

Two persons died and six were injured in a crowd which attacked the offices of the newspaper Critica, outspoken critic of Peron and Farrell, last night. Some employees of the newspaper said bombs and machine guns were used in the attack. The building was fired, but employees extinguished the flames. The office of the newspaper La Prensa also was attacked.

At the height of this violence, a government communique said the demonstrations which had flared throughout the day had "dissolved themselves in perfect order" and that both the city and the rest of the country were perfectly calm.

Peron, ousted by leaders of the Campo de Mayo garrison Oct. 9, and for a time held in custody, told the hysterically cheering crowds massed in the Plaza de Mayo that he would take a brief vacation in a southern province and then return to the capital to "fight shoulder to shoulder with the workers until I am exhausted."

It was Peron's possible candidacy for the presidency in next April's elections which kept Argentina in a state of ferment for months.

Peron said he would resign from the army, remaining a colonel under a law permitting officers to retain rank and uniform on retirement. His resignation possibly paved the way for his candidacy.

treasure could be used to pay for the importing of rice, salt, raw cotton and other scarce commodities, I believe this could prove to be the greatest thing for the happiness of the Japanese people."

Addressing MacArthur through a letter to the newspaper Mainichi, Kagawa added:

"It goes without saying that the Japanese people will endeavor their best to faithfully carry out reparations but the suffering of war victims actually is greater than one imagines."

The fortune in diamonds, totaling 131,000 karats in weight, was found in the Mitsui Trust company vaults, deposited in the name of a Japanese government import and export control agency.

Many of the diamonds had been contributed by civilians who were told they were needed for industrial usage. Obviously the greater part of the diamonds never was used for that purpose. Possibly the gems were intended for use as trading material with Germany and other nations had the war continued.

Some of the gems probably were obtained abroad, as the same type of campaign for them was conducted by the Japanese overseas.

The same government control agency also has 33,000 karats of diamonds in vaults at Osaka, considerable gold and nearly 250 pounds of platinum in various parts of Tokyo.

The discovery came shortly after another fortune in diamonds, belonging to Japanese admirals, was found in a package hidden in a chicken coop atop a mountain 160 miles north of Tokyo.

The movement of the gold from the mint is part of a plan to gather all government precious metals in Bank of Japan vaults in Tokyo and Osaka, pending instructions from Washington as to the disposition.

Soldiers of the First (dismounted) Cavalry division looked on as Japanese crews lugged the gold to the trucks.

Funeral of Mrs. Taylor

Funeral services for Mrs. J. F. Taylor, the former Miss Flora McMillan who died Sunday morning at the Niangua hospital, where she had been a patient five weeks, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Sweney-Phillips funeral home in Warrensburg with the Rev. J. N. Darnell of Higginsville in charge.

Prof. and Mrs. Taylor formerly lived in Knob Noster and La Monte.

Prof. Taylor is a former superintendent of the La Monte school.

Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. O'Bannon Marshall, Mrs. Russell Kendrick, A. S. Adcock and Frank Shepherd, of Knob Noster, who sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "Have Thine Own Way, Lord."

Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Kendrick sang, "Sometime, Somewhere." Miss Mary V. Hogan of Knob Noster was accompanist.

Palbearers were: O'Bannon Marshall, H. A. Wimer and William Marshall, of Knob Noster; Leon Chalfant, Willis Baldwin and Walter Baldwin, of Warrensburg.

Burial was in Centerville cemetery.

Mrs. Taylor was born July 4, 1875, in West Newton, Pa., and came to Missouri when a child with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McMillan, now deceased, pioneer residents of west Johnson county. She attended the Houx rural school and later was graduated from the State Normal school at Warrensburg.

June 27, 1900, she was married to Prof. Taylor. She taught in grade and high schools, often substituting in schools where her husband taught. Mrs. Taylor was a piano teacher, a charter member of the Royal Neighbor lodge of Concordia, a member of the Rebekahs and a member of the Eastern Star lodge. Her church membership was in the Methodist church of Festus.

Surviving are her husband, Prof. J. E. Taylor, superintendent of Niangua public schools; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Taylor of Knob Noster; a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker of Longview, Wash.; a grandson, Midshipman Willard H. Walker, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; a sister, Mrs. Emil Tebenkamp, Concordia; and six brothers, William McMillan, superintendent of schools at Jacksonville, Andrew McMillan of Kansas City, Charles McMillan, superintendent of Slater public schools; Joe and Lloyd McMillan of Centerville, and Harry McMillan, principal of Southeast high school, Kansas City.

Funeral of George A. Callis

Funeral services for George A. Callis, retired farmer and stockman of Hughesville, who died at the family home, 1308 East Seventh street, Wednesday morning, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Gillespie funeral home with Rev. Herman Jensen, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church, officiating.

Palbearers will be W. A. Claycomb, J. S. Brennen, Charles Bliss, Richard Lower, Charles Kinder and Wesley Lower.

Music will be in charge of Mrs. Charles Rages of Hughesville.

Mr. Callis was born December 23, 1873, the son of Thomas H. and Mary Lower Callis, near Longwood.

He lived nearly his entire life in the Hughesville neighborhood. He was a member of the Hughesville Presbyterian church and served as superintendent of the Sunday school for forty-one years.

Mr. Callis was married to Annie Elgin on October 11, 1896.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, George E. Callis of Jefferson City and Thomas H. Callis of Luxora, Ark., two brothers, John T. Callis and Edward Callis, both of Hughesville and one sister, Mrs. John A. Fowler of Hughesville.

Two brothers preceded him in death, Will Callis of Sedalia and Charles Callis of Hughesville.

Burial will be in the High Point cemetery at Hughesville.

Funeral of Mrs. Irene Hert

Funeral services for Mrs. Irene V. Davidson Hert, wife of Charles F. Hert, who died at the family home, 315 West Eleventh street, early Wednesday morning, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Congregational-Presbyterian church, Sixth and Osage, with the pastor, Rev. R. C. Williamson, officiating.

Miss Mabel DeWitt will be in charge of the music with Misses Mary Helen and Frances Meyer to sing, "Abide With Me," and "Crossing the Bar."

Palbearers will be Ralph Boies, Arthur Hoffman, A. L. Henderson, Jolly Hurr, W. B. Hert and D. S. Lamm.

The body will be taken to the church at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Strike is on By Utility Men

reported still operating, and C. M. Matson, superintendent, said he expected to continue operations "as best we can" with men still on duty.

Thirteen men are required to operate the boilers and turbines, Matson said. Men due at the 8 a. m. shift failed to appear, he said, but operations were continuing with "others still holding on."

Out At Battle Creek

Maintenance men at Battle Creek walked out at 8 a. m.

State police and state troops had been alerted by Governor Kelly when last minute efforts to avert a walkout apparently failed.

Don McGown, public relations representative of the company, said at Jackson at 8:20 a. m. that company power lines then were showing "normal loads."

At Muskegon, Harold Wilson, president of the union local announced that electrical power to private homes and industries was cut off at 8 a. m. but that service to hospitals, police and fire departments and other essential users would be continued.

The strike, culmination of a wage dispute in which the CIO's state utility workers council demanded a 30 cents an hour general wage increase, had no effect on Detroit. Detroit gets its electricity from other sources.

At Grand Rapids, largest western Michigan city served by consumers power, most company employees were reported to have walked out at 7:45 a. m.

Picket lines appeared at both the steam heating and steam generating plants, but a few men remained at the job to protect huge boilers from damage, it was reported.

Until the hour set for the strike operations had gone on normally at all plants.

The company, a subsidiary of the Commonwealth and Southern company, offered the workers a 10 cent increase but this was turned down as were solutions suggested by a special state mediation panel.

The strike was originally set for Oct. 10, but the "cooling off" period was extended a week by Gardward W. Sanders, chairman of the union's executive board, after Governor Kelly intervened.

The company was hit by brief strikes in 1937, '38 and '39, while disputes in 1941, '42 and '43 were settled without strikes after appeals from government agencies including the army and the War Labor Board.

Pass Bill Fixing Judges Salaries

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 18.—(AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the House today a bill to fix the salaries of Missouri Probate Judges in the larger counties at $3,600 to $10,000 a year.

The vote was 18-0, barely enough for passage. Sen. Michael Kinney (D) of St. Louis said he had intended to oppose the measure because it imposed drastic cuts on St. Louis and Kansas City probate judges but in view of the slim attendance he would support it.

The measure affects only counties with 30,000 or more population. A bill establishing salaries in smaller counties is still hung up in committee.

Passed by the same narrow margin before the Senate quit for the week-end was a bill setting the schedule of fees for probate judges, leaving them virtually the same as at present. Judges formerly were paid on a fee basis but under the new state constitution will shift to salaries.

Not Guilty in Tampering With Car

The case of the State of Missouri against Billy West was tried in the circuit court today and the jury found the defendant not guilty of the charge of tampering with a motor vehicle, after twenty-five minutes deliberation.

Those on the jury were: H. A. Williams, foreman, Andrew Smith, E. R. Morris, Ben W. Bailey, John Brandt, Kenneth Glenn, Earl Renner, Charles Arnold, C. E. Turner, John Long, L. L. Miller, and H. W. Burrows.

Verdict of $1,000 Given Mrs. Hines

Mrs. Louise Jeniece Hines of Sedalia was awarded $1,000 damages by a jury in Judge Brown Harris's court at Kansas City on Wednesday against the Kansas City Public Service company. She was injured October 12, 1943, in a collision of her motor car and a company bus at Twenty-seventh street terrace and Holmes street.

Mrs. Hines, who had asked for damages totaling $25,000, said her lungs were punctured in the collision.

Easing Strike of Longshoremen

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Tension eased today in New York's strike bound harbor as union officials and shippers prepared to resume contract negotiations.

Police and union officials said 13,500 men had returned to work.

"There is no question of the fact that the strike is over," said Jack Gerst, secretary-treasurer of local 791, International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), which first walked out October 1 demanding reduced cargo lift load weights.

However, William Warren, insurgent leader, insisted the strike which has involved 35,000 workers had not ended.

Police said 10,000 men were loading and unloading vessels in New York City, and John Nolan, chief ILA organizer for New Jersey, said 3,500 men were at work in New Jersey, Hoboken, Port of Newark, Leonardo and Caven Point.

"Every pier in New Jersey is going full blast," Nolan declared.

The War Shipping Administration said today 107 or about 80 per cent, of American-flag vessels in port were being serviced by longshoremen and 27 were strike-bound. At the height of the strike, some 400 vessels were idle.

To Rescue of Red Cross Personnel

By Ralph Morton

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 18.—(AP)—A British convoy arrived tonight off the Java port of Semarang carrying Indian troops who will be sent after dark to rescue Red Cross and relief personnel beleaguered by Japanese nationals.

Lt. Col. J. A. Melsop announced the arrival at Allied headquarters and said more British troops were enroute in Malaya for Sumatra, another rich Dutch island, where there may be "violent disturbances."

Mohamed Hatta, vice president of the Nationalist Indonesian council, said the organization had rejected the Dutch proposal for partnership in ruling the Netherlands East Indies. He asserted that many years of bloodshed would result should the Dutch impose armed rule in the colony.

Ghurka troops took over the Indies summer capital of Sandoeing from the Japanese last night, Col. Melsop said. Moving from Batavia, which remained quiet, the troops encountered numerous road blocks, some manned by Nationalists. All were removed. The colonel said the Japanese cooperated "perfectly" in passing control to the British, charged with occupation of the colony for the Allies as a result of the Japanese surrender.

Parts of Sumatra always have been difficult for Dutch rulers. The Dutch fought battles with natives in North Sumatra until as late as 1904.

Override Russia On Trusteeship

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(AP)—Overriding the objections of Russia, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, the United Nations executive committee today recommended the creation of a temporary trusteeship committee to handle international territories. The vote was seven to three.

The Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko opposed the committee with his opposition to a report, previously agreed upon in a sub-committee, to create a temporary committee.

Allied Powers Indict 24 Nazi Leaders and Six Organizations

1944 and in the Ardennes in December, 1944," the official document declares. "American prisoners were starved, beaten and otherwise mistreated in numerous stalags (prison camps), in Germany and in the occupied countries, particularly in 1943, 1944 and 1945."

Today's indictment traces the great Nazi conspiracy from the emergence of Hitler as a political leader in 1921, through his election as chancellor of the German republic in 1933 and his suppression of all opposition in Germany immediately thereafter. The Nazi party is described as "the central core" of the conspiracy.

Three aims are attributed to the Nazis:

1. To destroy the Treaty of Versailles and its restrictions on German military power.

2. To regain German territories lost in World War I and other European territories occupied by "racial Germans" such as the Sudetenland, and

3. To acquire "living space" in Europe and elsewhere.

"The aims and purposes of the Nazi conspirators were not fixed or static," the indictment declared, "but evolved and expanded as they acquired progressively greater power and became able to make more effective application of threats of force and threats of aggressive war."

Thus the Nazis—consolidating their power inside Germany through suppression of liberties, persecutions of Jews and other means—progressed to the point in 1936 they took over Austria and Czechoslovakia and invaded Poland, "thus precipitating war with the United Kingdom and France."

It was but a matter of time then until all the Allied world, including the United States, was drawn into the conflict.

Linked To Alliance

American entry as a result of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor is linked to the German-Japanese-Italian military alliance and the fact that after Japan struck Germany declared war on this country.

The indictment takes up war crimes and crimes against humanity country by country, including the pre-war persecutions of Christians, Jews and political opponents of the Nazis in Germany itself. It declares:

"The Nazis murdered amongst others Chancellor Dollfus (of Austria), the Social Democrat (Dr. Rudolf) Dreitscheid and the Communist (Ernest) Thaelmann."

"The Nazis reported on Sept. 14, 1944, that Breitscheid, former editor of the newspaper Der Dozialist, and Thaelmann, German Communist leader, were killed in the Buchenwald concentration camp by Allied bombs. Previously radio Atlantik, German language station operated by the British, said the two were killed Sept. 11, 1944, on orders of Heinrich Himmler."

"They (the Nazis) imprisoned in concentration camps numerous political and religious personages, for example Chancellor Schuschnigg (of Austria) and Pastor Niemoller of Germany."

"Along with adults," the indictment says, "the Nazi conspirators mercilessly destroyed even children. They killed them with their parents in groups and alone. They killed them in children's homes and hospitals, burying the living in the graves, throwing them into flames, stabbing them with bayonets, poisoning them, conducting experiments upon them, extracting their blood for the use of the Germany army, throwing them into prison and Gestapo torture chambers and concentration camps where the children died from hunger, torture and epidemic diseases."

"As measured by the sum, or rather the combination of the three great arms—the land, air, and naval forces. The urgent need is for an overall, not a piecemeal of what is required to solve the single problem of national security with the greatest economy compatible with requirements."

"Even under the stress of war, agreement has been reached in the joint chiefs of staff at times only by numerous compromises and after long delays, and coordination in material and administrative matters has largely been forced by circumstances arising out of the war and then only incompletely."

"With the end of the war, there is no longer a compelling necessity to reach at least compromise agreements on major matters. Current events have reinforced my view that the joint chiefs of staff could not be genuinely effective in peacetime as a coordination agency."

Dr. Hivale in Talk on India

Thank Offering Luncheon Hold by Church Group

The annual Mary Hurlbut Thank Offering luncheon was held at 1:00 this afternoon at the Congregational-Presbyterian church, which is held each year in honor of Miss Mary Hurlbut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut, 206 West Seventh street, who is a missionary in Africa.

Dr. Bhaskar Pandurang Hivale of Bombay, India, Professor of Philosophy at Wilson college, University of Bombay, was the guest speaker taking for his subject, "The Women of India."

Dr. Hivale told of how the old customs of the women of India are being changed by new laws to better the conditions of the country. He told of the Christian women there and the things that they are doing, and of the Christian missionaries and what they have done for India.

New laws have been passed and among them is one which prohibits child marriages. A girl must be fourteen and a boy eighteen before they can marry. Widows, who have been prohibited from marrying a second time, are now allowed to remarry.

Women in India are now becoming educated and are attending colleges. "In my college," Dr. Hivale said, "there are 450 girls and 700 boys, and there is no caste system." The women take part in the national freedom as eagerly as men, the speaker said.

Invocation was given by Rev. Robert C. Williamson, pastor of the church.

Mrs. John Rodeman played two solos.

A memorial tribute was paid to Mrs. C. F. Hert, member of the federation guild who died Wednesday, by Miss Helen Bowers.

A tribute to Miss Hurlbut and the wonderful work she is doing was given by Miss Nettie Lamm. Miss Lamm also read several letters from Miss Hurlbut.

The luncheon is given each year by the Federated Service Guild of which Mrs. J. D. Kyd is president. Miss Esther Lewis, vice president, was program chairman and Mrs. Harvey Keens, chairman of Christian Education and Missions and her committee were in charge of the arrangements.

About sixty were seated at the luncheon tables which were decorated with garden flowers in the autumn colors.

Wage-Price Situation To be Discussed

mine stoppages, the government displayed frank relief over the turn of events.

Labor, reconversion and solid fuels officials hopefully assumed that the 216,000 striking bituminous coal miners would return to work next Monday as directed by the United Mine Workers' president.

The strikes, which started September 21 and spread to six states, had threatened to bring reconversion to a grinding halt.

The threat to steel—and thence to autos and a score of basic industries—had been multiplying daily with the loss of more than a million tons with each complete or cycle.

There was little inclination on the part of the government to look behind Lewis' surprise halt order. A UMW spokesman said the action "obviously" was taken "in the public interest."

Considerable speculation existed elsewhere, however.

Most labor sources expected that Lewis would renew his demand on the operators for unionization of the supervisory, clerical and technical employees—the issue in the strikes—when he reopens the contract next March 31.

Says She'll Stick By Husband Jailed Soon After Wedding

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Oct. 18.—(AP)—The 31-year-old bride of William Lon Daniel, 47, said today she would stand by her husband who was committed to jail within two hours after their wedding for alleged failure to support a 14-year old daughter by a former marriage.

Mrs. Daniel; the former Mary Mabe Norton, announced she would stick by her new husband "if it takes ten years to clear him of this trouble."

"We both love each other and I will stay with him," she said after the two had kissed and talked in low tones at the office of City Marshal Fran. Callahan.

Behind Bars
Daniel spent Tuesday night behind bars after Juvenile Court Judge C. E. Tucker found him guilty of contempt of court for failure to comply with a court order to pay $25 a month for the last three months to support the daughter.

Judge Tucker ordered him to pay $75 and post a $1,000 bond to guarantee future payment.

Both Daniel and his bride expressed concern as to how he could comply with the order.

Daniel, a building contractor, told Judge Tucker he had been ill and did not have the $75, but said he could earn the money if given his liberty.

"I knew about the daughter but did not know anything about those payments," Mrs. Daniel said. "He did not tell me about those. But how is he going to make them when he borrowed the money to get married on?"

Reconversion From Military Aircraft To Helicopters Keeps Bell Plant Busy

Helicopter business may be bigger than the pre-war airplane business within the next seven to 15 years, Lawrence D. Bell, prominent military aircraft builder, believes. He foresees a time when helicopters will sell for as little as $1,500.

S. Burton Heath, NEA Staff correspondent, is touring the nation's most important industrial cities to survey reconversion problems. Here is another of his dispatches, from Niagara Falls.

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

NIAGARA FALLS—Lawrence D. Bell, who has become one of the big figures in the warplane industry, is staking his business future in large part upon the helicopter.

Bell gave the Allies in 1939 the deadly, tricky Airacobra and, in 1943, the even deadlier Kingcobra. Though his company was a parvenu in plane-building, he was chosen in 1941 to build secretly the first American jet plane, and in 1942 was delegated to operate the big Marietta, Ga., government plant that made almost 700 Superforts before Japan was bombed into submission.

Since Larry Bell went into business he has worked on none but military planes. Even his wartime helicopter experimentation was with an eye upon possible military uses. He intends to stay in the military plane picture and to continue jet experiments. But for a living, he is going to make helicopters.

The day after the Japs caved in, Bell announced that he was seeking to buy from the government the big home plant here. Within a week, his directors had authorized tooling up for substantial production of Bell's first helicopter model. It may take some time to get the necessary tools and get production actually under way.

Bell is cautious and realistic. "In from seven to 15 years the helicopter business may be bigger than the pre-war airplane business was," he says. "But we should be practical. Helicopters are not going to start in the low-priced automobile class.

"Some day helicopters can be available for any reasonably prosperous private flier. A $1,500 machine is entirely within reason. Anybody who can fly a plane or drive a car in traffic can equally well operate a helicopter. I am interested in selling to this big general market—but not now. Seek General Market

"First, there are more immediately important uses for helicopters, where initial price and operating cost are secondary. As we gain experience serving these commercial users, and bring production out to a bigger scale, we can work toward the general market.

"The helicopter is not a rival to either automobile or airplane. Each can do what the others can not. The helicopter is a medium-the airplane to serve advantageously.

"The helicopter makes air-line distances and knows no traffic lights. It can make an 80 or 100-mile trip from door to door quicker than the automobile, the train or the airplane. It needs no big, elaborate landing field. As a stunt, it could land on or take off from a water tower, I suppose, but a 200 foot square plot, on the ground or on the top of a building, is ideal.

"It can fly at almost zero visibility, skimming under the clouds at low level when no airport would give clearance to a plane. If it runs into trouble it can rise vertically, go sideways, or just stop dead and look things over. It is smooth in turbulent air.

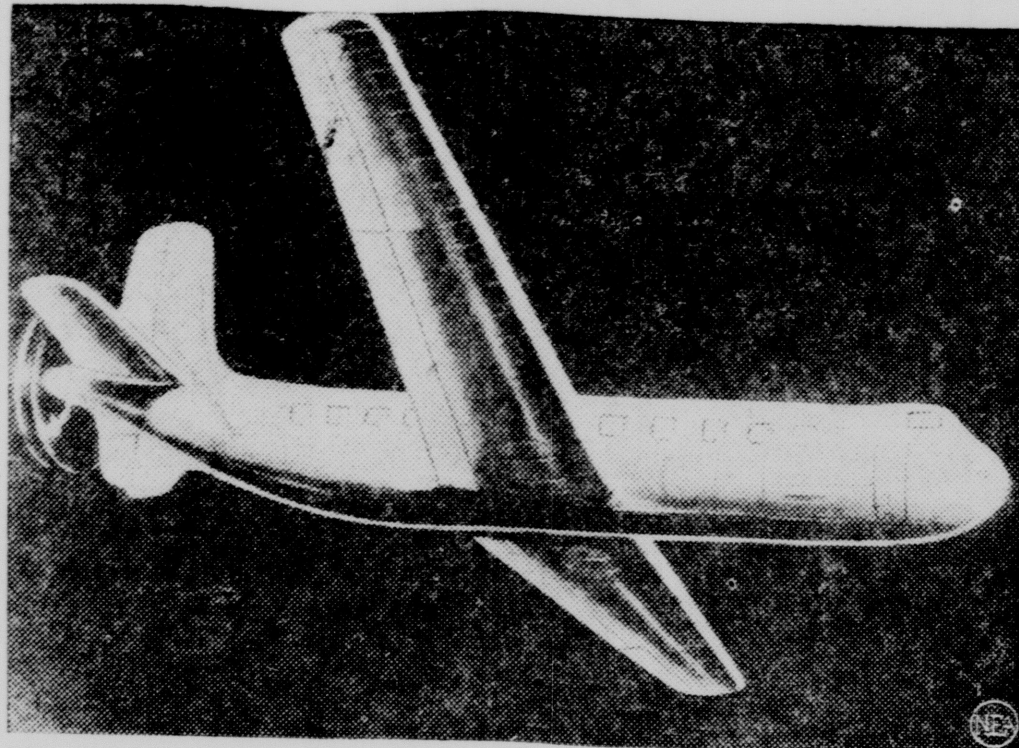

"Last January a doctor, on the way to a farmhouse to treat our injured chief test pilot, was stalled in snowdrifts. Floyd Carlson, our test pilot, dropped down beside the doctor's car, picked him up and landed him in the farmyard.

Numerous Uses
"The uses for a machine of this versatility and reliability are numerous, even before the general market is tapped. There are forest fire control, crop dusting, pipeline control, coast guard and other rescue work, police spotting and control, disaster relief; there are suburban and rural ambulance service, commuter travel, airport-to-city haulage for passengers, mail and cargo.

"I believe that the experience

'Skybus' Gets Big Push

Postwar commercial version of the famous Douglas DC-3 transport will be the DC-8 "Skybus," sketched above, unusual feature of which is a twin counter-rotating propeller drive mounted behind the tail. Peacetime product will carry twice the passengers and go 50 per cent faster than the war plane.

similar commercial uses should help us to evolve the low price, cheap-to-operate helicopter that the public is looking for."

Technically, Bell says he was misunderstood by those who thought he forecast 600-mile-an-hour helicopter flight.

"That wouldn't be a helicopter," he explains. "It would be a convertible. It would rise like a helicopter. Then the big rotor would be depressed, fore or aft, into an enormous puller or pusher propeller with which, theoretically, high speeds would be possible. When it came time to land, the propeller would once more become a rotor."

Girl Killed As She Rins

Into Path Of Car

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 17—(AP)—The state highway patrol reported tonight that a seven-year-old girl, Virginia Beckett, was killed instantly today on highway 40 near the school she attended in Boonville.

The patrol said the child ran into the path of a car driven by E. R. Habegger, 63, of California, Mo.

A Great Natural Gas System

The natural gas that serves you in home, office and plant is not a product that springs magically from the gas well to the gas burner. Actually, a lot goes on "in between" the production at the gas well and the instantaneous gas service at your beck and call... as the illustration in this advertisement clearly shows. In serving a five-state area in the heart of the great Southwest, Cities Service Gas Company must, in an organized way, serve approximately 375,000 gas users in its territory. This means that Cities Service Gas must not only operate and purchase from many wells in proven fields, but develop enormous gas reserves to assure an adequate supply in all areas and in all seasons and weather conditions. This calls for large storage and reserve facilities as well as approximately 4,700 miles of pipeline to transport the necessary gas throughout the system.

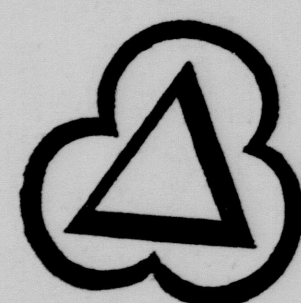

In addition to pipelines and gas in storage, Cities Service Gas operates 25 large compressor stations which speed up the flow of the gas in pipelines to the communities and industries served. Bear in mind that the weather man doesn't give notice to the pipeline company when the temperature drops suddenly from 40° above to 4° below. Population increases in a community or abrupt changes also cause an extra high demand on natural gas supply. Thus, over our entire gas system many employees must live in little Cities Service communities especially built out in the areas where the gas fields are located—to operate and maintain pipeline and compressor station equipment.

As a producing and pipeline gas company, we must prepare for many quick-changing conditions in order to make it possible for your local gas distributing company to furnish you round-the-clock service. Natural gas is not something that we or anyone just picks up and delivers whenever and wherever it is needed; to make the gas ready and serviceable for you at all times a lot must go on "in between."

Cities Service Gas is engaged in providing this dependable supply... connecting this supply to pipelines and taking the gas to a market where it is sold... not only for the benefit of the owner of the land on which the gas is located, but for the ultimate consumer in cities and small towns. This means the natural gas business, as a sound enterprise, must be on a business basis and always be ready.

The purpose of this advertisement is to acquaint the gas consuming public of this territory with some of the operations of a public servant—the natural gas industry.

Conn Refusal To Sign For Louis Fight Stirs Arguments

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—(AP)—A lot of firecrackers went off around Promoter Mike Jacobs' beak-busting headquarters today, and the loudest of all was a flat refusal by Billy Conn to sign for his scheduled heavy-weight title fight next June with Joe Louis.

The last time Billy signed for a Louis fight—in 1941—his Manager, Johnny Ray, wouldn't approve the contracts until Jacobs lifted Conn's percentage of the gate, causing Mike to scream "you're breaking both my legs."

Today, Ray befeared only over the clause barring Conn from any exhibition or tune-up tussles before the Louis go.

Was Frail Kid

The little blond pilot who built Conn up from a frail kid off the streets of Pittsburgh into the belter who came closest to taking Louis' title, wants Billy to have three tune-ups before meeting the bomber again. To show he wasn't kidding, Johnny said he agreed verbally with co-promoter Freddy Sommers this afternoon to have Billy box an exhibition with Al Patterson of Pittsburgh in Kansas City auditorium November 7 on the Lee Savold-Wallace cross card. And Sommers said the referee for the exhibition will be Louis.

Johnny had no immediate objections over other terms. But after nearly an hour of argument with Uncle Mike, Johnny called for his lawyer to come a-running from Pittsburgh and look over the papers for the fight, which, the promoter said, would go to the town "where we can get the most money."

The lawyer, Dave B. Piltner, will be on hand tomorrow. There may be considerably more discussion but the chances are the contracts will soon be signed, probably late tomorrow.

Would Collect One Million

Conn said he figured he and Ray would collect $1,000,000 as their share of the gate this time.

What with a slice of the motion picture and television rights, and the possibility of a piece of the radio money as well, there's a chance Conn is close to being right. Jacobs guesses the gate will hit the $3,000,000 stratosphere.

No one was talking about terms today, but Billy's end of the last bout was 20 per cent.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(P)—Basketball seems to be on its way toward becoming our national game—at least in winter—if the southern colleges only move into the big time . . . New England, mostly a blank on the basketball map up to last winter, is looking for a big season with Boston College returning to action after a 20 year lapse, Holy Cross definitely on the big time and Rhode Island State moving into the Boston Garden doubleheaders—Bill Mokray, Boston basketball boss, hopes to make up for last year's $11,000 loss by putting at least one New England team in every game.

Bob Nose Best

After Bob Bob Deubber, U. of Penn back, busted his nose running into teammate Bob Evans in last week's North Carolina game the coaches fearfully asked Deuber how he felt . . . "Oh, I'm fine," Bob replied. "This has fixed me up just right. I can breathe as well as before I broke my nose the first time."

Cleaning The Cuff

When Bob Burke, former U. of Washington footballer, fumbled in a big game at Prague, Czechoslovakia, he posted a notice that he would play every man on the 94th Division squad a buck the next time he dropped the ball in a game. Bob even carries a football to chow now to cure the fumbling habit. The American Bowling Congress has granted dates to 3,274 out-of-town teams for the 1946 tourney at Buffalo.

Adrift Seven Days at Sea

Miss Mary Helen Mayer, 217 South Moniteau avenue, has received word of an experience suffered in the recent Pacific typhoons by her nephew, Edward Mayer, who joined the navy when he was 17 and was made fireman second class before he left Great Lakes, Ill., to go on a submarine bound for China, towing a mile behind it a 100 foot long flat boat equipped to fix engines at sea.

In a letter dated October 5 from Okinawa, he told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Mayer of San Jose, Calif., that when the typhoon of Sept. 16-18 struck, the flat boat was wrecked and he and five others were washed off and were adrift without anything to drink for seven days.

He wrote that there were no heathens on that boat during those days. They prayed continuously until a week later they were picked up, all alive, and brought to Okinawa. His parents have received no word from him since the second and more severe typhoon struck Okinawa only four days after this letter was written on October 9.

Wrong Direction

LOGAN, Utah, Oct. 18—(P)—"Put some force behind that block," shouted Burns Crookston, veteran Logan high school football coach. "That's no way to run interference."

Inadvertently Crookston caught the full force of the next block. Now he's hobbling about the football practice field on crutches with one leg in a cast.

The average American motor vehicle is propelled approximately 10 miles on one gallon of gasoline.

Faurot Soon Be Coaching

Orders Reported Being Prepared For Navy Release

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 18—(P)—Lt. Comdr. Don Faurot, the University of Missouri's favorite football son, was reported today on his way out of the navy to resume head coaching duties at his alma mater.

Faurot, who picked up Missouri's football ruins in 1935 after three dismal seasons under Frank Carideo and turned out three big champions and two post-season teams, went into the navy early in 1943.

Prof. Sam B. Shirky, athletic committee chairman, said the university has been advised by Rep. Wat Arnold (D-Mo) that orders for Faurot's release are being prepared. The telegram from Arnold did not indicate when Faurot will return to Columbia, Shirky said.

Other well informed sources, however, said it was understood Faurot will be back "within a very short time." Shirky said the popular mentor will take over as head coach immediately upon arrival.

Faurot is presently assigned to the U. S. S. Roosevelt pre-commissioning detail, Brooklyn Navy Yards. He coached the Iowa Seahawks in 1943, losing only to Notre Dame, and was football mentor at Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station last fall.

A "pony" back on Gwinn Henry's Missouri teams of 1923 and '24, Faurot coached championship eleven at Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Kirksville, with monotonous regularity for nine years.

Faurot's regime at Missouri started when Tiger football was at an all-time low. The 1934 team had lost 8 games and tied one in nine starts, and a Missouri team hadn't won half its games since 1928.

The Tigers had only one losing season under Faurot, 1937, won Big Six titles in 1939, 1941 and 1942; played and lost, 7-21, to Georgia Tech in the 1940 Orange Bowl, and dropped a 2-0 game to Fordham in the 1942 Sugar Bowl.

Chauncey Simpson, Faurot's assistant at Kirksville Teachers and at Missouri for many years, has coached the Tigers since 1942. He has the Tigers in a tie with Oklahoma for Big Six leadership, each with one win, and is readying his team for a conference game with Kansas State at Columbia Saturday.

Wildcats to Rely on Veterans

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18—(P)—The Kansas State Wildcats will depend heavily on two recently returned war veterans to make their patched-up team go against Missouri at Columbia Saturday.

Coach Lud Fiser announced after scrimmages yesterday that injuries will keep regular center Dick Hood and Tom Flannely, starting fullback, out of the Missouri contest. Fiser is grooming war veterans Howard Hamlin, center, and Carl Cramer, fullback, to take over regular assignments.

Chauncey Simpson, Missouri coach, has made several shifts in the Tiger lineup to prepare for the possible absence of Sid Lindley and Bob Eigelberger, ailing end and guard, but said he hopes to have his team intact for the Wildcats.

GET DU PONT ANTI-FREEZE NOW

Chances are it will be hard to replace a radiator that freezes up this winter. Engine parts are scarce! That's why the wise car-owner gets his anti-freeze long before winter arrives.

$1.40 a gal. War Emergency "Zerone" gives thorough protection against rust and corrosion as well as freezing. Until regular "Zerone" returns this season's production went to war, there's no better buy at the price. Remember, it's made by Du Pont.

$2.65 a gal. A limited supply of "Zerex," Du Pont's non-evaporating anti-freeze, is now available. "Zerex" won't boil out. One filling lasts all winter. Gives complete protection against rust and corrosion—won't form sludge or clog radiators.

British Brides Must Wait

LONDON, Oct. 18—(P)—The U.S. navy last night told British brides clamoring for passage to the United States that they would be permitted to sail the Atlantic to join their husbands when transportation becomes available. The brides recently marched on the U. S. embassy and patrolled the streets nearby. The army told them that wives who have obtained final visas from the embassy and whose applications for transportation have been completed "need have no concern about the validity of these papers."

They read, relax and loaf as they indulge in sun bathing. Their obviously excellent physical condition is ample evidence of the splendid treatment they receive.

Smith-Cotton PTA Over Goal

Vote $50 to Teen Town; Addresses From Officers

Mrs. Leo Eichoff, membership chairman of the Smith-Cotton Parent Teacher Association, announced at a meeting of the association Monday night that the membership had reached 1,016, which is sixteen over the goal set. Plans are going forward for an orchestra dance which has been promised to the students if they reached the goal of 1,000 members. This is the largest number of members in the history of the school.

Mrs. Louis Isgur, juvenile protection chairman, gave an interesting report and made a motion that the Smith-Cotton unit sponsor a Saturday night party at Teen Town with all entertainment and refreshments free to the high school students. The motion carried.

A fund of fifty dollars was voted to be given to the Teen Town drive which is in progress now.

The Executive board meeting was held at 7:15 o'clock with the regular meeting at 8:00 o'clock. This was the first meeting of the year.

Invocation was by Rev. H. U. Campbell.

F. T. Rucker, program chairman, introduced Charles Hanna, who was the master of ceremonies for the evening and conducted the community singing.

Officers Give Addresses

Mr. Rucker introduced Col. John McLaughlin and Major P. J. Handley who gave interesting accounts of their service in the artillery division in the European theatre of war.

Col. McLaughlin spoke of the teamwork it took to gain even one town and that teamwork not only made it possible for victory to be ours in this war, but that it would work all through life in any undertaking. He said that the war was won by our productive powers and our American system of teamwork.

Bill To Add College Teachers To Retirement Fund Defeated

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 18—(P)—A bill to add state teacher college faculty members to the Missouri teachers' retirement system was defeated in the house of representatives Wednesday after an impassioned plea by Rep. J. D. Swiers (R) of Greene county.

The vote was 52-30, far short of the 76 necessary to pass it.

"I cannot vote to retire people drawing $250 to $600 a month," Swiers said, "until we have taken care of the men who will be coming back to us and the old ladies who have bent over the wash tubs to send their children to school."

Swiers said that while the bill would provide retirement benefits for teachers with college degrees, it would not apply to janitors and other employees "and I say to hell with that kind of legislation."

Directive To Eisenhower Made Public

Main Objective To Keep Germany From Threatening Peace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(P)—The April directive which ordered General Eisenhower to treat Germany as a "defeated enemy nation" with the objective of preventing her from ever again "becoming a threat to the peace of the world," was made public by the state department.

The directive set up regulations for Eisenhower in governing the American occupation zone of Germany.

Paralleled Potsdam

In many respects, the order—subject of much speculation during the six months it was kept secret—paralleled the provisions on Germany in the Potsdam big three communique.

There appeared to be no outstanding differences between the two documents and little support for one published contention that the Eisenhower directive was unusually severe and had to be "watered down" at Potsdam.

The differences appeared to be largely ones of detail.

The 8,000-word directive was forwarded to Gen. Eisenhower by the joint chiefs of staff following its preparation by many officials in several different branches of the government and its approval by the President.

Decentralization

Eisenhower is instructed to direct his administration towards the decentralization of the political, administrative, and economic structure of Germany and the development of local responsibility.

One provision instructs him that the control council should facilitate "severance of all governmental and administrative connections between Austria and Germany and the elimination of German economic influences in Austria."

"Germany will not be occupied for the purpose of liberation but as a defeated enemy nation," the directive says. It orders Eisenhower to "strongly discourage fraternization with the German officials and population" — a provision which has since been relaxed.

Lists Essential Steps

The directive lists as the principal Allied objective the prevention of Germany from again threatening world peace, and lists as "essential steps" in its accomplishment:

1. Elimination of Nazism and militarism in all their forms.
2. Immediate apprehension of war criminals for punishment.
3. Industrial disarmament and demilitarization of Germany, "with continuing controls over Germany's capacity to make war."
4. Preparation for an eventual reconstruction of German political life on a democratic basis.

Supplementary Allied objectives listed are:

1. To enforce the program of reparations and restitution.
2. To provide relief for the benefit of countries devastated by Nazi aggression.
3. To insure that prisoners of war and displaced persons of the United Nations are cared for and repatriated.

Only a Few Dehydrated Foods Survive Wartime Distaste for K Rations

Production of dehydrated foods has dropped to a trickle, by comparison with vast quantities of dried foods supplied to the Army. These packages are destined for UNRRA stations in Europe, to feed peoples of war-torn countries.

By Jean George
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The dehydrated meal rose overnight to sensational fame early in the war and returned to obscurity with a dull thud at the close of hostilities.

Americans just don't like their vitamins withered down to a quarter inch pill. Fresh spinach is here to stay.

The death of the just-add-hot-water-and-serve dinner began with grumblings in the GI fox-hole, and reached national proportions just after V-J Day, when 90 per cent of the dehydrated vegetable plants closed down.

During the war the powdered meal was met with mixed feelings, from an elaborate dried-banquet in Washington at which national officials acclaimed the stand-in food, to a hasty meal on the battle front, at which fighting Yanks labeled it "ersatz" and asked for baked beans.

However, dried food producers expected this sudden death. Ever since the Civil War, they point out, the dehydration of vegetables has been a war measure. However, with the perfection of the science, after each conflict, a few more dried foods stay on the market, and the more optimistic are prone to believe that at some later day dried foods will compete with frozen and canned foods.

Few Survive

The dehydrated "war baby" expanded nearly 4000 per cent during the war. Now plants are being dismantled and turned into canning and quick-freezing units, according to a report by the United States Tariff Commission.

A few commodities perfected during the war will remain by request of satisfied housewives and European consumers. Tomato and bean soup mixtures proved successful. So did parsley and

Etiquette Rules for Gloves

By Alicia Hart
NEA Staff Writer

It took a war to bring arm-climbing gloves to luncheon tables and tea parties. It took a war to elevate the long "silk" glove to the Cinderella role of the evening. Because the war turned old glove traditions topsy-turvy, a review of the new rules is in order for those sticklers who want to walk hand in glove with style.

Long gloves? Plain ones are needed for wear with dressy afternoon duds which have cap-length sleeves. These same long gloves, however, may be crushed down and worn any time of day. Long arm-climbers are correct, as always, with formal gowns, but long novelty gloves lit up by jewels or other gee-gaws are suitable companions for the evening only with gowns that are startlingly plain.

Informal daytime wear? Shorties, or four or five-button gloves of washable doeskin, suede or fabric masquerading as such, are the best companions of tailored suits or dresses. Six button pull-ons are the best choice for daytime dresses, "soft" suits, and coats.

Sport outfits? Wear sports gloves of chamois-like wool or cotton, pigskin, or wool string. Hand-sewn gloves strike a smart fashion note with a tweed ensemble.

Gloves of unusual color make a nice costume touch and can be used effectively to repeat color of hat, or dress trimming, or jewelry. But this is a dressy costume device that should be carried off with considerable dash, and is not for the timid soul.

You may go without your hat, but never without gloves, if you want to pass the well-dressed test. Bracelets may be worn over the gloves, but not rings. Gloves should never fit too tightly. Gloves must always be removed when taking food or drink, and you must peel off the long ones, of course, before going in to a formal dinner.

Ornamental sterling silver spoons fashioned into lapel pins can serve a double purpose for the modern miss. Used to transfer loose face powder into your compact, they save powder, time and disposition.

For comfortable formal footwear buy a pair of the new non-rationalized ballet slippers and about three yards of matching satin inch-wide ribbon. With your sewing machine, attach a length of ribbon to each side of the shoe towards the instep, then cross the ribbon and tie in a bow at the ankle, ballerina-fashion.

Here's a trick to preserve sleepy-time glamour for you whose hair needs pin-curling every night: buy several strips of flattering tulle or net, each about a yard in length. Choose soft pastel colors to complement your prettiest nighties, and wind in a turban knot around your head.

Try substituting dainty veiling in butterfly patterns for hair nets over your chignon or pompadour curls. Limp, tired veiling (on your hats, too) may be crisped like new by placing under a sheet of waxed paper and pressing with a hot iron.

Hinz Lowers Case Lot Ketchup Price

H. J. Heinz company is pointing the way to post-war food price stabilization. A special announcement from the Pittsburgh home office said the company has authorized a six and one-half per cent reduction in the case-lot price of ketchup effective immediately over almost all of the United States.

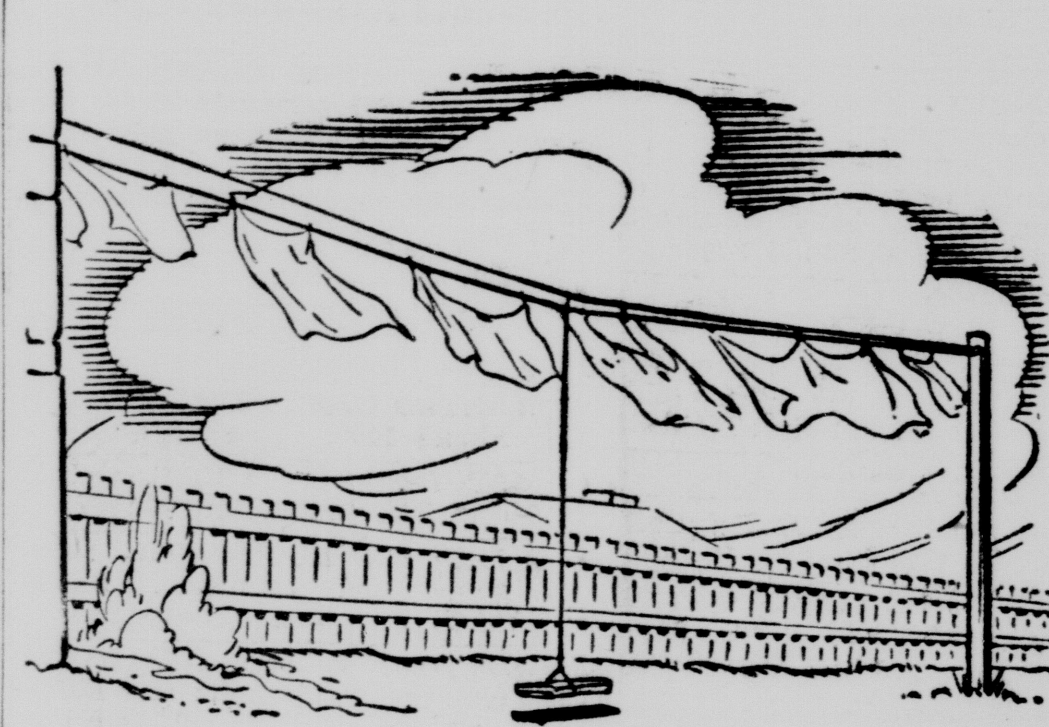

H. J. Heinz II, president, explained that the cut was made possible because of the Heinz company's ability to produce in greater volume at lower cost and also because of savings effected in distribution of the Heinz line. "We are pleased," he said, "to pass this advantage along to the consumer."

"We are not," he continued, "waiting for the pressure of competitive events to move us. The food industry, like any other, owes an obligation to the public to do everything consistently possible to keep price ranges on consumer goods with reach of all. In so doing, business does not need government edicts to enforce values."

Heinz Ketchup, which the company sold even below its government ceiling during the war, is being turned out in greater volume than any time in its history, but the company pointed out that the allotment system to grocers will remain in effect for the time being in order to get proper distribution.

During the war years many grocery shelves were bare of Heinz Ketchup and others of the famous 57 Varieties, due to gov-

Washday Work-Savers

By Jack B. Cramer
Author, "The Handy Household Manual"

You can buck the windy weather that whips or twists your line and shortens the life of flying clothes by suspending an old flat iron or other heavy weight from your wash line.

Get a piece of rope long enough to reach from the ground. Tie one end to the middle of the line, the other to your heavy weight. To keep your clothesline clean and to gather in the whole wash when an autumn rain pops—make your line quickly detachable by means of hooks and eyes. Screw the "eyes" into the posts and fasten hooks on the ends of the line so you can detach clothesline and clothes in one fell swoop.

If your clothesline prop has a habit of slipping off the line, break the habit by putting a clothespin over the line on each side of the prop.

To keep hands safe from Jack Frost nips while hanging out the wash, rub in vinegar before you go out. Heating clothespins in a moderately warm oven before you hang your pinups will also help defy the cold.

Blood

It has been reported that one blood transfusion is required for every two men suffering battle wounds instead of, as was formerly believed, one transfusion for every five men wounded. The Red Cross and the Army Transport commands are doing their best to see that the needed blood is supplied.

Kingdom of Hawaii

Hawaii was a kingdom until a provisional government was set up in 1893. A republican government then established with Sanford B. Dole, a missionary's son, as president.

Blood Artillery

Blood plasma has been delivered to American soldiers throughout the world via all sorts of vehicles and methods. The strangest one, however, is that which was recently revealed—the firing of blood plasma contained in artillery shells to Allied troops cut off by Nazis in the European theater of war.

According to WPB officials, substitution of wood for meals in aircraft production has exceeded six billion board feet and has saved two and one-half million tons of aluminum, steel and copper.

Kissed Ike

WAC Private Betty Rising, Middletown, Conn., who on a dare, gave General Eisenhower a kiss on his fifty-fifth birthday as he attended a football game in Frankfurt, Germany at which she was a cheerleader. Dressed in a sweater and short skirt, she jumped a rail, shook the general's hand and then came the kiss. "He looked surprised," she said. (Army Photo from NEA Telephoto)

Fur With Flash

Fur lit up by sequins makes many of this fall's suits dazzling successes. Typical of fur and flash is this Maurice Rentner model. The boxy jacket of wheat-colored woolen with sequin studded Persian lamb trimmings tops a black satin blouse and black woolen skirt.

Speed Limit 25,000 MPH

Rocket ship scientists say man's body can stand a speed of 25,000 miles an hour as easily as 25 miles, provided acceleration is gradual.

Disease Plane Stowaway

In 1930, South America saw the spread of a malarial type mosquito that never before had been seen in the New World, and it is believed the invasion came from

Senate Approves
Road Measure

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 17—
(AP)—The senate approved today a policy of tapping the Missouri postwar fund to aid county road building but withhold action on a money matching road bill already passed by the house.

The measure, offered originally by Rep. R. J. King (R) of Franklin county and sponsored in the senate by Republican Floor Leader H. R. Williams of Cassville, was left on the calendar for later action.

It would require the state to match funds with counties for county roads up to $750 a mile. Williams estimated the cost to the state would be $10,000,000 for the next five years.

As passed by the house, the money would have come from the state's general fund, but a senate committee decided instead to dip into the $18,000,000 postwar reserve and the senate approved that amendment.

IN THE JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
COURT, SEDALIA TOWNSHIP,
PETTIS COUNTY, MISSOURI

Before Honorable A. M. Harlan, Justice of the Peace within and for Sedalia Township, Pettis County, Missouri.
E. W. Thompson, Plaintiff
vs.
Leslie S. Lowden, Defendant

Notice of Pendency of Action to Foreclose Lien on Motor Vehicle Under Section 3581, R. S. Mo. 1939

To Leslie S. Lowden, Defendant, Greetings:

You are hereby notified that the plaintiff, E. W. Thompson, did on the 12th day of October, 1945, file his verified petition and account for storage accrued from the 1st day of June, 1943, to the 1st day of October, 1945, at the rate of Five ($5.00) Dollars per month, the total amount of accrued indebtedness amounting to One Hundred Thirty ($130.00) Dollars for storage on a certain 1930 Chevrolet Coupe, bearing Motor No. 1460028, which said motor vehicle has been continuously stored at the garage and place of business of plaintiff, located at Fourth and Osage Streets in the City of Sedalia, Missouri, from June 1, 1943, until the date of the filing of said petition, and in said petition and cause of action, plaintiff prays that his lien for said storage be established and impressed against the above described motor vehicle and that the same be ordered sold, all as provided for in Section 3581, R. S. Mo. 1939, to satisfy said lien, debt and costs.

You are further notified and informed that the hearing on plaintiff's said petition is set for the 31st day of October, 1945, at the office of A. M. Harlan, a Justice of the Peace, at 219½ South Ohio Street, Sedalia, Missouri.

All of which you will take due notice and govern yourself accordingly.
E. W. THOMPSON, Plaintiff.

Convict Two In Check Case

Sentence Two Others in Prison Conspiracy

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 18—(AP)—Two men were convicted by a federal district court jury yesterday and two others pleaded guilty to charges of conspiracy to violate federal laws against interstate transportation of stolen securities.

Laurence Ferrier, a former Missouri penitentiary guard, and James Albert Dennison, a convict, were convicted but Judge Albert A. Ridge deferred sentence until the defendants' motions for new trials are acted upon.

Two other convicts, George Marcus Evans and Thomas E. Fleming, Jr., received sentences of one year and a day after pleading guilty and appearing as government witnesses.

The charges grew out of an investigation last February of reported thefts of state checks from the prison auditor's office. At that time convicts were doing clerical work in the office.

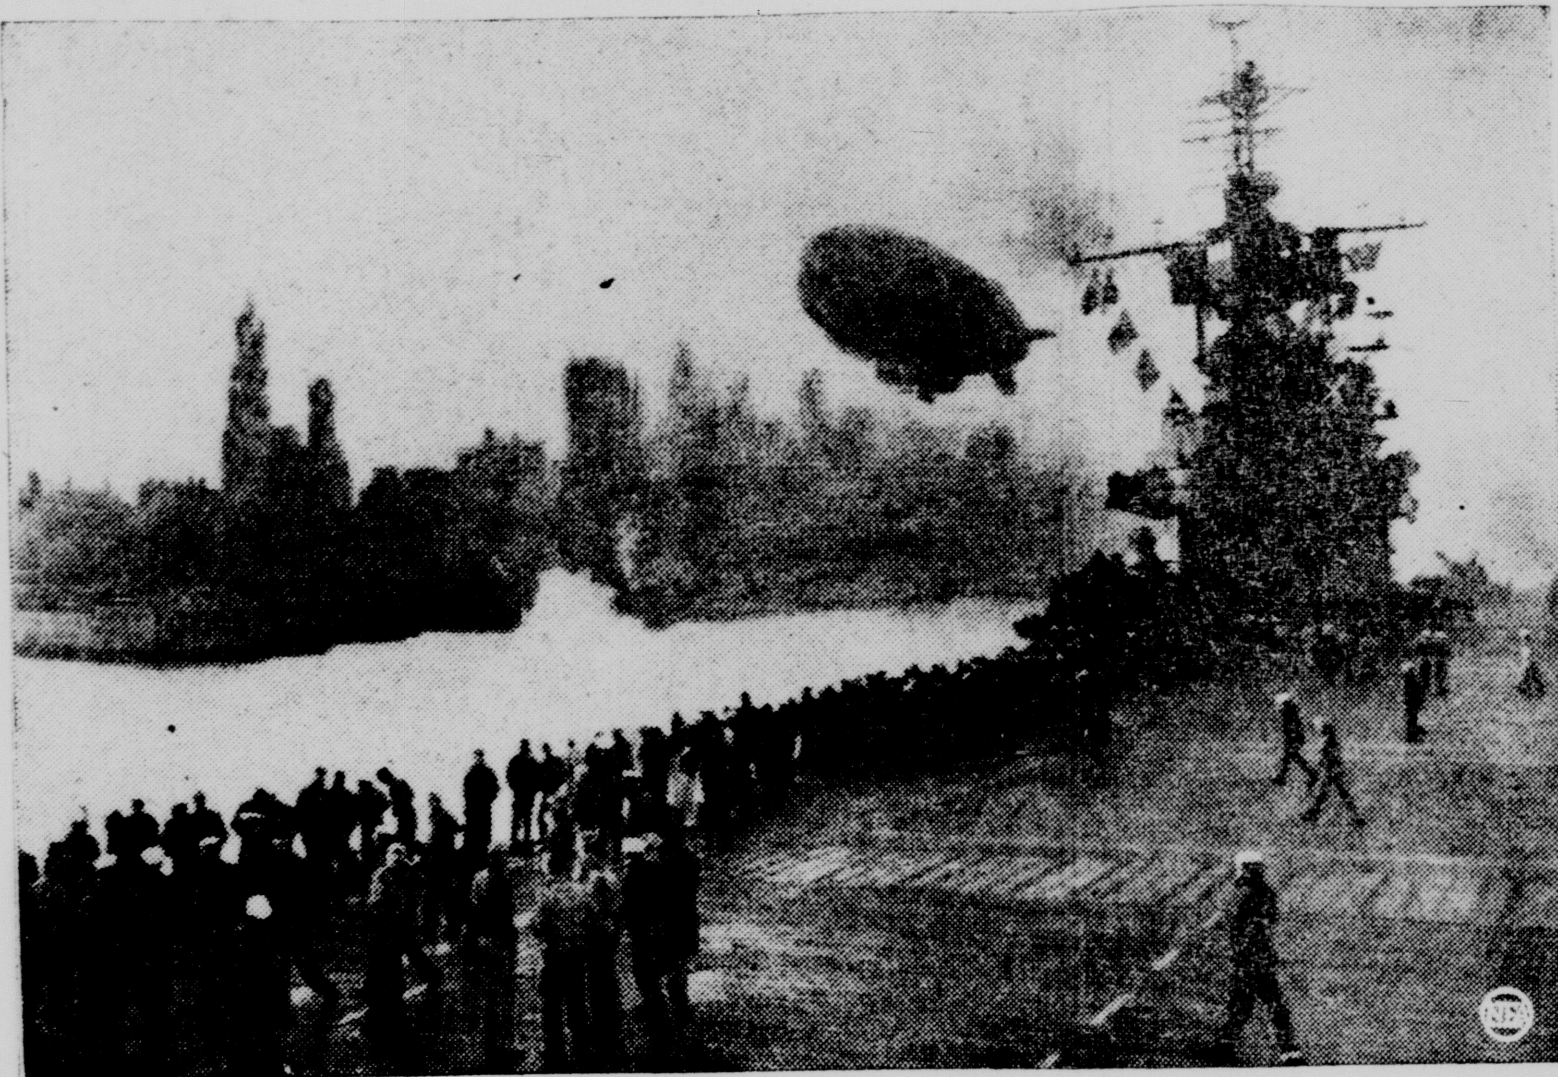

Fleming, who admitted being ringleader in the scheme, testified that he stole the state check for $9,751, gave it to Dennison

Gallant Enterprise Comes Home

New York City looks hazy in the early morning, but it still is a big treat for men aboard the USS Enterprise, as the largest of U. S. navy craft to be in America for Navy Day celebration on October 27, pulls into dock at downtown Manhattan. The "Big E," with one of the most brilliant combat records in naval history, was disabled off Okinawa by a kamikaze bomb which blew the carrier's elevator shaft high in the air. The big carrier was repaired at Bremerton. The deck shown is new. (NEA Telephoto) who in turn handed it to Evans. Evans gave it to the guard, Ferrier, to mail outside the prison walls to Harold Joseph Martyn at Springfield, Ill.

Fleming said Martyn was a friend and former cellmate of Dennison.

Testify for Government
Martyn and Evans also testified for the government, implicating Dennison and Ferrier in the plot. Martyn pleaded guilty in a federal court in Illinois last July for his part in the scheme and his sentence is pending.

Both Ferrier and Dennison testified they knew nothing of the plot and took no part in it. If they were used by the others, they declared, they were innocent of any knowledge that they were aiding.

All the sentences for those pleading guilty are to begin immediately, thus running concurrently with the long state terms the men are now serving.

In another case growing out of the same investigation, Frank J. Perry, Lester A. Ross and Fleming pleaded guilty. The convicts admitted forging and uttering a state check for $1,479 in September, 1944.

They were given a year and a day each, to begin immediately. Fleming, who is serving a five-year sentence for forgery from Nodaway county, will serve no extra time for the two sentences he received yesterday.

Memorial for Pfc. J. E. Guier

The memorial service for Pfc. James E. Guier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Guier, of Sweet Springs, who was killed in action on Mindanao on June 28, 1945, were held Sunday, October 14, at the Baptist church in Sweet Springs.

Those attending from a distance were his grandmother, Mrs. Florilla Wooden, La Plata, Mo., an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wooden, of Indianapolis, Ind., four aunts, Mrs. J. M. Arment, Macon; Mrs. Von McHenry of La Plata; Mrs. Raymond Garrett of Thayer and Mrs. Frank Mitts of Marshall and the following cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wilson, Atlanta; Sgt. Noland Griffin of Sedalia Army Air Base, Mrs. Herbert Wadlen and son James of Macon, Miss Joan Arment of Macon, Miss Vida Mae Mitts and Donald Dean Mitts of Marshall, friends, Miss Lois Kiehl, Malta Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Trussell of Bogard, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Trussell of St. Joseph, Hubert Kiehl, Clarence Kiehl and Mrs. Otto Kiehl of Malta Bend, Louise Klusman, Blackburn, John Dingley, Mt. Leonard, Ray Dingley, Mt. Leonard, Anna Windsor, Mt. Leonard, Freda Dick, Marshall, W. R. Dingley, Mt. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hellums of Wilmington.

The Hellum family were neighbors of Pfc. James E. Guier, while living at Malta Bend. The three older sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hellum, Paul, Ralph and Frank were great friends of Pfc. Guier and were in the Philippines at the same time. Ralph and Frank also died in service within a week and Paul in Europe had his feet and legs frozen.

Safety Hints to Extension Club

Mrs. Ralph Minor and Mrs. Marion Minor entertained the Oak Point Extension club October 12. Mrs. Georgia Heffelfinger was a guest.

After roll call, answered with safety hints Mrs. Pauline Correll led the prayer and devotional service. The reading of health letter by Mrs. Marion Minor was followed by the reading of the GI Bill of Rights by Mrs. C. A. Crole.

Mrs. R. L. Taylor demonstrated use of sewing machine attachments.

Committees were appointed to prepare for a Halloween party for the club, school pupils and teachers.

The program of the club, as outlined by the county council, for the standard of achievement, was read.

About
Pettis County's Historical Society and MUSEUM

Pa Pettis said to Ma: I see so many people stop by one of these center Missouri Pacific cases where there are a number of interesting articles collected in India by Staff Sergeant George A. Monsees, and loaned to the museum by Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Monsees of Smithton. They admire especially a matching set of elephant trappings, a headplate, a guiding hook, and a battle ax. In India for thousands of years the elephant has been the trained servant of man. Since earliest times the elephant has served as a living derrick or steam shovel in lifting, moving, and piling humanly "immovable" objects, such as huge logs and blocks. In war time the elephant has served as a transporting jeep for the Oriental warrior, as an ammunition truck, even as a tank, for elephants have been trained to wield weapons grasped in their powerful trunks.

But in the spectacular processions of the fabulously wealthy native princes the elephant really "went to town," often more gorgeously attired in trappings encrusted with gold and jewels than was the prince sitting in the canopied howdah on its back. This museum set is probably part of such an elephant's costume.

For its forehead there is a shield like plate enameled in a design that would readily accommodate gold inlays and jewels in rich colors. There is a matching guiding hook to be carried by the driver or mahout who sits on the elephant's neck. And there is a battle ax, enameled in the same design, possibly for the elephant to carry ceremoniously in its trunk.

Ma Pettis said: I do remember that years ago a circus used its elephants to extricate its wagons mired down in the show grounds west of Liberty Park, but I believe that, unlike in India, in our country with our modern speed and paved roads, any elephant would probably prove to be a "white elephant."

War Casualties Again Reduced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—A decrease in navy figures brought the war casualty toll down again today to a combined total of 1,069,632 for the armed forces.

This was 521 under last week's count.

The army total, covering casualties reported to the war department through Oct. 14, is 922,682, an increase of 99 from the previous week. The navy total is 146,950, a drop of 620.

The army casualties this week and a week ago: killed 208,966 and 207,754; wounded 571,277 and 571,490; missing 19,892 and 21,520; prisoners 122,547 and 121,829.

The navy figures: killed 55,

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubules which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Gets Discharge on Return From Europe

William C. Wingate, son of C. A. Wingate, route 1, has been of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, honorably discharged from the U. S. army after having served thirty-two months overseas in the European theatre of war. Pfc. Wingate entered the service in June, 1942; received his basic training at Camp Callan, San Diego, Calif., was assigned to Battery A, 433rd AAA, and served at different times overseas with the Third, the Fifth and the Seventh armies. He was awarded seven bronze stars for service in the African, Sicilian, Naples Foglia, Rome Arno, southern France,

Pvt. Chambers Is Discharged

Pfc. William H. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chambers, 311 North Prospect avenue, arrived in New York from Europe October 1 and received his honorable discharge, by the point system, Rhineland and Central European campaigns. Pvt. Wingate sailed from La-Havre, France, Sept. 27 and landed at Newport News, Va., on October 3, proceeding from there to Jefferson Barracks, where he received his discharge on October 11.

Calls for the BEST

The prescription your doctor writes for you calls for certain ingredients, and over and above that, it calls for the best quality drugs and a full measure of professional skill and care in the compounding of them. Though not written by your doctor, we read these instructions between the lines and treat quality, care and skill as active, essential, participating ingredients of every prescription we fill. Only the best is good enough where your health is concerned, and only the best of everything goes into the prescription you bring to us.

WHY SHOULD RUPTURE
TIE YOU DOWN?

When a hernia is properly lifted and held by a modern lightweight truss that is perfectly fitted to the individual's physiological needs, he can work and play in safety and comfort. Let us fit you with a comfortable Spring or Elastic Truss at Pre-War prices.
